

Free film screening offered in conjunction with the symposium

Making the links: Climate change, community health and resilience

(November 5—6, 2018, Kelowna BC)

This event is co-sponsored by the Institute for Healthy Living and Chronic Disease Prevention, the Institute for Community Engaged Research, and the Faculty of Health and Social Development, at UBC's Okanagan campus

HOW TO LET GO OF THE WORLD AND LOVE ALL THE THINGS CLIMATE CAN'T CHANGE

This critically acclaimed film follows Oscar nominee Josh Fox as he travels the world to explore climate change – one of the greatest threats facing the world today. He seeks to uncover answers to questions such as what is it that climate change can't destroy? What is so deep within us that no calamity can take it away? Join us for this free screening.
